

GELBIEH PROGRAMS REPLACEMENT FEMALE MARKETING

The Canadian Gelbvieh Association's Commercial Industry Development Committee (CIDC) developed the Replacement Female Marketing Service to assist Commercial Cattle Producers to market or purchase Gelbvieh influenced replacement females. The Replacement Female Marketing Service can be utilized for marketing directly off the farm or through the auction market system.

Who can use the system?

Any Commercial cattle producer who wishes to purchase Gelbvieh influenced replacement females is encouraged to contact the CGA office to obtain a current listing of available females. Commercial cattle producers who have purchased one or more registered Gelbvieh bulls and have had the registration certificate transferred into their name are welcome to list any replacement females for sale on the system.

How does it work?

The commercial producer completes a Replacement Female Data Sheet (available from the Canadian Gelbvieh Association office) with details of the cattle they wish to buy or sell. They then either fax or mail this form to the Canadian Gelbvieh Association office. The CGA office will include this information on a listing sheet which is made available to interested parties.

Note: The Canadian Gelbvieh Association will not be involved, in any way, in the price negotiations.

What does it cost?

This listing service is provided at no charge to commercial cattle producers with registered Gelbvieh bulls or to the buyers who wish to receive these listings.
